CLOSING VERMONT YANKEE AS SCHEDULED IS THE RESPONSIBLE THING TO DO.

- The plant is too old to be safe or reliable.
- Entergy, the out-of-state corporate owners of Vermont Yankee, repeatedly lied about pipes leaking radioactive pollution into our groundwater.
- Keeping the reactor open past 2012 means risking more leaks and contamination, and Vermonters could get stuck with the billion dollar clean-up bill.

ACT NOW!

Entergy's lobbyists are flooding our Statehouse. Go to VPIRG.ORG to contact your legislators and tell them to RETIRE THE REACTOR AS PLANNED.

Paid for by Vermont Public Interest Research Group (VPIRG). VPIRG is the largest nonprofit consumer and environmental advocacy organization in Vermont, promoting and protecting the health of Vermont's people, environment and locally-based economy by informing and mobilizing citizens statewide.
